NEW $1.5 MILLION BOND ISSUE LAUNCHED

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE BOND PROGRAM

Growth, expansion and improvement are three key words at Cedarville College as it moves into a new stage of its development. On June 4, 1971, the Board of Trustees authorized the sale of a 1.5 million dollar bond issue, Series "D," to go into effect on July 1. Strongly feeling the Lord's guidance in this project, the Trustees view this method of financing as most suitable for the campus.

The overwhelming success of past bond issues, is most evident in the physical expansion of Cedarville. Many buildings on campus, those providing a financial return, were built as a result of bond issues, "A, B, C." Income-producing buildings such as residence halls — Faith, Patterson, Cedar Park and Williams and the cafeteria addition are realities of past efforts. Concurrent with the construction of bond financed facilities, structures built from gifts, such as the Gym-Student Center in 1962, the library in 1967, Administration building improvements in 1968, and the new Science Center, with ground-breaking this fall, complete the present college expansion picture.

Anticipating the Lord's help in every direction, the Administration is looking enthusiastically to the future and the building prospects ahead. As a result of the proceeds from the Series "D" bonds, three additions to the campus facilities will be made. With a new six-acre lake completed in 1969, a new Student Union is planned for lake-side. As student enrollment increases, facilities must grow, and a new dormitory is proposed for the north end of campus. The mobile home park, presently situated near the center of campus will be improved as it is moved to the north end of college property.

To meet the cost of physical expansions, the Trustees have chosen the bond program rather than borrowing the money because they feel this type of program will be more

An Unforgettable Testimony

Mr. James Bucholtz, 20, a junior at Cedarville College drowned July 3, 1971, in Quito, Ecuador, where he was participating in the College's Missionary Internship Program.

Working at radio station HCJB, in conjunction with their music programming and production, Jim had been in Ecuador since the beginning of June. On the evening of July 3, after setting up a tent for Sunday services, the group from the radio station decided to go swimming. Jim apparently stepped into a hole and was swept downstream.

Jim's testimony exemplifies a dedicated Christian life. Realizing the need for music in the Christian experience, Jim was an accomplished organist and pianist and served as pianist for numerous on and off campus activities. Not only gifted musically, he carried a 4.0 grade point average at Cedarville. Jim was to continue his music study at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music this September.

Born October 1, 1950, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bucholtz, Arcanum, Ohio. Memorial services were conducted in the Christian Missionary Alliance Church in Greenville, Ohio, on July 25, 1971. Burial was in Quito, Ecuador.

exciting and beneficial to the alumni and friends of the College. Investing in Cedarville College, not only involves the joys of Christian stewardship and the excitement of being an integral part of a Christ-centered endeavor, but provides for financial return. Portrait of a Benefactress

Sensitive, yet decisive, gentle, yet outspoken, simple, yet a millionaire — all these characteristics paint a descriptive portrait of a consecrated servant of God, Miss Ruby Lamb, benefactress to Cedarville College.

As a child, born into a poor family in Lisle, New York, Miss Lamb learned, from the very beginning of life, the tragedy of illness, the hardship of poverty and later, the love of the Lord. At the age of six, she suffered a tragic fall which injured her back permanently, leaving few moments free from pain. The daughter of a crippled father, she learned the conservative ways of spending, a lesson that followed her throughout life. In her search for security and peace as a youth, she found the Lord in a small Baptist church in Castle Creek, New York.

Recalling memory-filled years, Dr. Arthur Wolsey of Spurgeon College in Florida, spoke of Miss Lamb's background as a school teacher, when small but strong-willed, she handled bullies and ruffians for $6.00 a week. Experiencing numerous jobs throughout her professional life, she worked in a shoe factory before entering the business world — a world in which the Lord would ask for her stewardship.

During the late 1920's, Miss Lamb began a career as a secretary for the I.B.M. company in New York. It was during the next eleven years that she began securing stock in that company. Practically starving herself, she invested in over $5,000 worth of shares, which have matured to a value of one million dollars.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President

To begin a letter with a reference to money is undoubtedly the secret way to lose an audience. I dare to do that, however, because I want to discuss an opportunity for a sound and rewarding INVESTMENT.

For many years Cedarville College has been constructing income-producing buildings by means of bonds which have been purchased by our friends. This has been beneficial to many individuals and has enabled the College to erect dormitories and other buildings without government loans or subsidies.

The first Series A bond was sold on July 1, 1959. This issue was retired by the College on October 15, 1970. Series B and C will be retired on schedule. Through these years we have not missed one single payment to any of our bond investors. Our bond reserve is invested in bank certificates of deposit.

Recently the Board of Trustees authorized the sale of Series D bonds. This is a $1,500,000 issue which has been approved by the Ohio Security Commission. Because this entire amount must be sold within one year of its approval, it is imperative that we do everything possible to complete this goal.

One of the major projects financed by these bonds will be the student center which will have a new cafeteria and other student facilities. Since this will also free the present cafeteria for classroom use, your investment in the bonds will be appreciated by our students.

As you know from other references in this issue of the Bulletin, Series D bonds have a 7% return on your investment. In addition you will be investing in the future of our young people. It seems to be that this is a two-fold way to "lay up treasures in heaven" (Matthew 6:19-21).

Now is the best time to consider Cedarville College Series D bonds. Write today for a bond schedule.

FALL CONFERENCE CHALLENGES YOUTH WORKERS

"Blueprint for Youth Leadership" the annual Word of Life Bible conference was held on the Cedarville College campus on September 10-11, 1971. Approximately 300 Christian Education directors and youth workers gathered for the two-day event. The conference centered on the teaching of Bible doctrines and sought to challenge the Christian educators in their work.

Featured speakers for the conference included Paul Bubar, the National director of Word of Life Clubs, Lou Nicholes, Midwest Regional director, William Fortner, a businessman and head deacon of one of the largest churches in the nation, and the author of None Dare Call It Treason, John Stormer.

NEW FACULTY

Two Cedarville alumni are among the six new faculty members appointed to various positions on the Cedarville College campus, President James T. Jeremiah has announced.

Assuming the position of assistant professor of Marketing and Management, Mr. James Seaman received his B.S. degree in Economics from Cedarville in 1968. His Masters degree was earned from the University of Dayton and his dissertation is pending toward his Ph.D. in Business Education and Management from the Ohio State University.

A graduate of Cedarville in 1970, Mr. Lyle Anderson, Instructor of Music, served in the music department of Ambassador Bible Institute in London, Ohio, for one year. While at Cedarville, he worked as student director of the College Choir and assistant in the music theory department.

Another new faculty member in the Music Department, Miss Judy Strickland comes to Cedarville upon completion of her Masters degree in piano from North Texas State University. She received her undergraduate degree in 1969, from Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama.

An addition to the Speech Department at Cedarville is Associate Professor of Speech, Mr. Marlin Rayburn. Mr. Rayburn attended Philadelphia School of the Bible before continuing undergraduate work at Wheaton College. He received his Masters degree in speech from Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Rayburn comes to Cedarville from Baptist Bible College, Clark Summit, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Pat Dixon, from Chattanooga, Tennessee, will begin her teaching duties in English Department at Cedarville. As assistant professor of English, she completed her requirements for a Masters of Education in Secondary English from the University of Tennessee.

Joining the faculty of the Psychology Department as associate professor of Psychology, Mr. Robert Abbas holds undergraduate degrees in music education and biology. He received his Masters of Educational Psychology and Guidance from the University of Northern Colorado in 1965.

These six new faculty members became part of the sixty member faculty group at Cedarville and met their students when approximately 1000 under-graduates returned for classes on September 30.

SWORDBEARERS' RALLY SLATED FOR FALL

"Victory Through Christ" is the theme of the Fifth Annual Youth Conference, sponsored by the Cedarville College Swordbearers. Slated for Saturday, November 6, 1971, the all-day event will involve rallies and discussion groups and guest speaker will be author and lecturer, Bob Larson.

Mr. Larson, a graduate of a mid-western university in medicine, entered full-time Christian service in 1964. Once a rock and roll combo artist, he was won to the Lord through the influence of country-western singer, Texas Tyler and his music ambitions turned to the Christian emphasis. Since leaving his medical practice in 1964, he has spoken at Christian and secular universities across the nation, averaging 500 talks a year.

Approximately 1000 young people are expected on the Cedarville campus for the November conference. Pre-registration should be sent to:

Swordbearers
Cedarville College
Cedarville, Ohio 45314

by October 23. Final registration is planned for 8:00 a.m., November 6.

Ground-breaking for the new Science Center has been scheduled for Homecoming weekend, October 16. The new Science Center, pictured above, is to be located west of the library, overlooking the lake. During the summer months, monies designated for the building have increased to over $280,000. Last recorded figures shown in the Bulletin, were $165,000. The College has been blessed with numerous large gifts and estate settlements. Continue to be in prayer for the needs and work of Cedarville College.

RUBY LAMB cont'd.

Characterizing this business-minded woman, Dr. Wolsey and her home church pastor, Rev. Lawrence Roland of the First Baptist Church, Johnson City, New York, both remembered her determination and her frugality. "She was one of single-mindedness," Dr. Wolsey recollected, "She saved everything."

A woman also gifted with a quick sense of humor, Pastor Roland called to mind one particular incident involving both Miss Lamb's traits of frugality and humor. One Easter morning, Miss Lamb arrived at church dressed in her spring outfit, proudly displaying a new hat. Approaching the pastor's wife, she inquired of Mrs. Roland if she liked her new purchase — a second-hand Easter bonnet, bought from the Salvation Army for fifty cents.

Pastor Roland, reminiscing the six years in which he served as her minister, commented on her most sensitive nature. A poet, with an alert mind, she sensed beauty in an autumn afternoon, felt gentleness in a budding flower and experienced her Heavenly Father's love, all of which she communicated in two volumes of poetry.

Miss Lamb lived within the business world for 12 years. During that time, she accumulated enough wealth to make a hobby of missionary support and to help hundreds of people through financial crisis. Yet, this servant of God shunned the limelight, giving most often, anonymously. In her words, she said, "the Lord has given me this, all belongs to Him, I am only a steward."

Miss Ruby Lamb went to be with the Lord in 1969. Her call of stewardship was further exhibited in a gift of 20 per cent of her estate to Cedarville College. Presently the college has received a partial settlement, totaling $90,000 and in October will receive the final settlement of another $90,000.

New Dean Assumes Position

Coming from counseling experience in Middletown, Ohio, Mrs. Virginia Carole Ertle has been appointed to the position of dean of women, Cedarville College President, Dr. James T. Jeremiah has announced. Mrs. Ertle succeeds Mrs. Mead Armstrong, who was serving as dean for the past two years.

Mrs. Ertle's background in the field of education and more specifically in guidance counseling is extensive. Graduating with a B.S. degree in elementary education from Grace College, Winona Lake, Indiana, she taught in Jefferson Elementary School, before serving as part of a counseling program development team in Kalamazoo, Michigan. While in Michigan, she instituted a practical studies program for exceptional children was instrumental in establishing a neighborhood committee core and was involved in a structured counseling program on the college level. For the past two years, she has been involved in guidance counseling at Middletown Freshmen High School.

Not only devoted to the field of education, Mrs. Ertle has been active in her church, Grace Baptist Church in Middletown, Ohio. She has served as church organist and pianist, as primary Sunday school superintendent and has worked on the Christian education board.

Mrs. Ertle joined the Student Personnel Department of Cedarville College in mid-September.

MISSIONARY NEWS

Frank ('70) and Brenda Bales with more than seventy-five per cent of their support in are presently serving the Lord at Canadian Keswick. While there, they have been managing the gift shop as well as working closely with the young people on the staff. Within the next several months, they will be finalizing plans to leave for Brazil.

John ('64) and Judy ('67) Bieglov are working with the Anchorage Baptist Bible Institute, as it prepares to open its doors on September 20. They have been conducting a 5-Day Club and with enthusiasm write — "We passed out nearly 100 invitations and 15 boys and girls attended the club we held in Eagle River. One girl, Lydia, received assurance of her salvation and now will be coming to our Sunday School."

From New Guinea, Dave ('56) and Joan ('59) Gardner write — "Before we left the U.S. to come to New Guinea, the major prayer request has constantly been that God would send others to join in the work here. Now he has met all the provisions for the first couple. Bob and Lois Dyer are in New Guinea — they arrived on March 3. We are all so thrilled and happy. Also, March was a welcome month, for our new building was completed enough for occupancy. Praise the Lord.

Serving as head of a Mexican Bible Institute, Samuel Hornbrook ('56) is the director of the Independent Baptist Institute in Poza Rica, Veracruz, Mexico. He has shouldered the majority of duties, as his responsibilities involve teaching and care of the students and supervision of the building program. The Institute is in the process of developing permanent buildings for the school and plans for the future include additional dormitories and classrooms plus a library, kitchen, dining room and recreational facilities.

News from Sao Paulo, Brazil Norm ('64) and Evelyn ('64) Nicklas write — "When is a vacation, not a vacation? When it is a forced vacation. The doctor has confined Evelyn and I to the house for at least a month, for complete rest. Why? We have hepatitis. We have been

BAPTIST MID-MISSIONS SEMINAR

Cedarville College hosted the 24th Annual Seminar of Baptist Mid-Missions. Among the 44 candidates participating were Cedarville graduates, Ruth Hardy ('69), Susan Ray ('70), and Mark and Beth Trimble ('67).

Under the direction of Baptist Mid-Missions President, Dr. Allen Lewis, the seminar workshops involved study in the areas of printing, language, missionary ethnics and literature as well as instruction concerning the mission's principle, and policies.

resting now for three weeks and are now able to be up and around a little. Recently, a teenage brother and sister were saved at the church. After visiting their home for prayer and Bible reading, we returned to the church praising the Lord that the Light of the Gospel had reached this humble dwelling. That night the boy and his sister walked a dark little road for 40 minutes in the rain to attend the Young People's meeting at the church."

Every Wednesday morning see the Paytons, De ('60) and Nancy (57) traveling throughout southern Leyte in the Philippines, meeting in person, those who they have reached through their radio programs. The future of their radio outreach is optimistic. In June they re-negotiated a year's contract that will put them on the air at two excellent times for their area — 5:45 and 6:30 a.m. With this advantage the island of Leyte as well as surrounding islands can be reached for the Lord.

After returning to Brazil, Ray and Jan (Van Horn) ('66) Reiner have been making plans to move to Senador Pompeu, in the interior of Brazil. Viewing their mission, they write, "Senador Pompeu has a history of being very hard to the Gospel, but God is able and the surrounding area seems more promising. We believe that much prayer will weaken the enemy."

ALUMNUS GAINS EXECUTIVE POSITION

Claiming the promise "... all things work together for good to them that love God ...," Cedarville alumnus, Roy N. Linton is an active Christian within the business community, of which he has been a part for 25 years.

A graduate of the class of 1938, Mr. Linton was an energetic student. As captain of the basketball team and class president, he learned leadership qualities that followed him in a most successful business career. After leaving Cedarville, Mr. Linton worked in the education field for three year as a math teacher and coach in Blanchester, Ohio. During World War II, he served in the South Pacific for five years.

The Greene County, Ohio native, recalling many experiences strongly feels that the Lord has ordered his steps and is aware of the Lord's involvement in his present position.

During the past 25 years, Mr. Linton has progressed from the sales department of Standard Register Company in California, to Regional Sales Manager in Chicago to Executive Vice President of that company, based in Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Linton, his wife, Joyce, and sons, Michael, a Wheaton College sophomore, and Philip, a high school junior, are members of Washington Heights Baptist Church, Kettering, Ohio.

NEW ASSOCIATES ANNOUNCED

As their first anniversary approaches, the Cedarville Associates Program announces their second year membership listing. The Associates program is designed to provide special on-campus benefits for interested individuals. Qualification for the program involves a gift support to the college of $25 or more. Last year, the first year for the organization, boasted a membership listing of 232. Since that time membership has almost doubled, with associates receiving such advantages as free admission to home basketball games, free admission to all artist-lecture series, book store discount and campus meals at cost for special events.

With the number of members enjoying the excitement and rewards from associate participation, an additional benefit, that of free admission to all major drama productions, has been added to the growing list of advantages.

Holy Land Tour Highlights Biblical History Sites

The Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane and the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus are only three sites of Biblical history which will be part of the total experience of the "Best of the Holy Land" tour. Scheduled for March 13-22, the tour group will depart from Kennedy International Airport, headed for arrival at Tel Aviv on March 14.

Hosting the tour will be Cedarville College President, James T. Jeremiah, assisted by Rev. Lee Turner, Director of Development at the college. Guided by these two men, the tour will explore the city of Jerusalem, journey to the Dead Sea and visit Bethany, the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus. The childhood home of Jesus, and the workshop of Joseph will be seen in Nazareth during the March trip to the homeland of our Lord.

The ten glorious days walking where Christ walked, visiting the cities in which He ministered and seeing the country He saw, can become a reality at the cost of only $649.00. This totally Christian-oriented tour of the Holy Land will provide the opportunity to see the highlights of a beautiful and historic land and will provide a greater insight into the experiences recorded in Biblical History.
